There are many talented filmmakers out there. Young people with lots of ideas, creative potential and enthusiasm. Sometimes all it takes for them to take the step from mere talent to successful professional is a platform with international appeal, where they can present themselves and their work. If you are one of those promising talents from an international film school, if advertising film is the focus of your studies, and if you enjoy competing with other young filmmakers throughout the world, the PORSCHE INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADVERTISING FILM AWARD is the ideal platform for you. This competition is hosted by the Baden-Wuerttemberg Film Academy and was initiated in 2004 – in cooperation with Porsche as the main sponsor of this event.

The famous sports car manufacturer Porsche as a globally active company has its headquarters in Stuttgart-Zuffenhausen, close to the Film Academy in Ludwigsburg, and is known worldwide for its exclusive, fast and high quality products - just as we expect the same of the submitted commercials. In the spirit of the classic Porsche 911 sports car, the top four young filmmakers of the classical category will receive cash prizes of EUR 3,911, EUR 2,911, EUR 1,911 and EUR 911. The New Ways Award of EUR 2,356 will be awarded in the second category for all other advertising formats. In the special category „Automobile“ the winner will receive a prize money of EUR 3,918.

Moreover, all winners will receive a trophy in the form of a slingshot - as a symbol that they have „hit the mark“ with their spots.

We would be very happy if you decided to enter the competition and joined the award ceremony on Thursday, the 20th of November 2014, when the selected films are presented and when you get the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with your fellow competitors. We are looking forward to your contributions and to welcome you to Ludwigsburg.

Director
Baden-Wuerttemberg Film Academy
